FAULKNER PARCELS SOLD TO HENRY LINK

Buyer Will Improve West Broadway Sites; Eno Family Once Owned Them.

The Rowanree-Schley Company sold for Henry W. Faulkner 21 West Broadway, and for his brother, William D. Faulkner, the similar No. 23 West Broadway, to Henry Link. The combined plot is 28x100 feet and will be improved for business purposes. The property at one time belonged to the Eno family, who, it is said, did not collect easement money from the elevated railroad, which failed to file a claim. Subsequently when a cousin of the present sellers bought the property and put in a claim for damages to the railroad company it paid him an agreed sum. Later it was found that the claim had been paid twice and the road sued in the three highest courts to recover, but it was held that the error was the company's and the money could not be recovered. The two parcels, however, attorneys, represented the owner in the actions and also in the present sale.
